My dear Miss

Thank you for your bubbly letter this morning. As a matter of fact I cannot echo your enthusiasm. I went up this morning being Varnishing Day. And felt very sheepish when I saw "Julia" looking like a dirt fried onion rather high up amongst some other frightful summons.

It was the worst picture of the 3 so I suppose that is why it is hung.

I can see no other reason.

In great haste-

your loving

B. Darling.
